MADE IN SCOTLAND
www.essenceofharris.com

There is a fairy-tale magic to the ancient Isle of Harris, an island which lies just off the rugged West Coast of Scotland. Where mountains carved by ice glaciers flow into golden beaches and disappear beneath crystal-blue waters. Located at the very heart of the island is Essence of Harris, a family-run business with a passion to capture the spirit of the Highlands and Islands of Scotland through naturally scented soy wax candles, reed-diffusers and home fragrance products.

Words from the Founders

We founded Essence of Harris back in 2015, with the vision of creating a business committed to staying natural, local and sustainable. Remaining true to the traditions of the island, our dedicated local team blend and hand pour each and every candle and home fragrance product, and ensure that all packaging and distribution is completed from our island factory. We use the most natural and high-quality ingredients in our collections to ensure our products evoke wellbeing and tranquillity.

Our mission has always been to provide that added personal touch with our products, evoking memories and serenity for all of our customers with our heartfelt products; from our island home to yours. We strive to always produce the highest quality products which will uplift, relax and restore each wonderful customer who interacts with the business. The natural beauty of Scotland and the unique magic of the Highlands and Islands has remained a constant source of inspiration for each product; inspired by the island, crafted with love.

Sustainable Products

Being situated within such stunning natural surroundings makes us very aware of how important it is to contribute to conservation. All of our wax-based products are 100% soy wax which means our candles burn longer and cleaner because they're paraffin free. Our candles hold their fragrance due to the excellent fragrance-holding abilities of soy. They're natural, free from pesticides, herbicides and parabens, and are eco-friendly.

Sustainable Growth

Driven by sustainability and the creation of employment on the island Essence of Harris has grown into the company it is today. The company was awarded the Investors in Young People accreditation for our commitment to building stable employment in the Outer Hebrides of Scotland. At the heart of what we do is the growth of our island home; we want to show the younger generation that you can build a future here in the Outer Hebrides.
